OLSS Sponsors Liberty Hall Museum Governor Livingston Housewarming

OLSS was proud to sponsor Liberty Hall's 250th-anniversary celebration, the Governor Livingston Housewarming Party, and join them for the festivities. Pictured above are: John Kean III, Susan M. Holzman, Joel D. Siegel, John Kean, Jr., Laurence B. Orloff, Adam M. Haberfield and Jack R. Vrablik.

Liberty Hall, located on Kean University's campus, was home to New Jersey's first elected governor and is now a National Historic Site. Today, the home is open to the public as a museum and offers educational programs, community events, and more.

The 250th-anniversary celebration was a fantastic evening filled with history, hospitality, and support for this treasured landmark. Proceeds from the event will help preserve Liberty Hall Museum and support educational programs that bring New Jersey's past to life for people of all ages.

We're proud to be part of this milestone and excited to help Liberty Hall inspire and connect with our community for years to come.
