Xiao Sun Participates in Rutgers Law School Careers in Litigation Panel

OLSS shareholder Xiao Sun recently returned to Rutgers Law School as a panelist for the Careers in Litigation discussion, sharing insights on the biggest challenges in litigation and career paths in the field.

As a former Rutgers Law student, Xiao remains deeply involved in the Law School community, and is the current President of the Rutgers Law Alumni Association. Speaking with future litigators was a great opportunity to give back and help students navigate the path ahead. Thank you to Rutgers Law for hosting this fantastic event!
