

ORLOFF
LOWENBACH
STIFELMAN &
SIEGEL P.A.

OLSS Attends Liberty Hall Museum's Inauguration Ball for Governor Livingston

OLSS was proud to support Liberty Hall Museum's Inauguration Ball for Governor Livingston, celebrating the 250th anniversary of William Livingston's election as New Jersey's first governor.

Joel Siegel and Jack Vrablik, OLSS attorneys and members of Liberty Hall's Board of Trustees, were joined by attorneys Jodi Friend, Adam Haberfield, and Nicholas Thomas for an evening on the museum's beautiful grounds. Proceeds from the event support the preservation and sustainability of Liberty Hall and its community programs for children and patrons of all ages.

Located on Kean University's campus in Union, Liberty Hall was home to Livingston, who also signed the United States Constitution. Today, the National Historic Site features a 50-room Victorian mansion and 12 acres of gardens, and hosts educational programs, community events, and tours year-round.

If you haven't visited, it's well worth the trip. Learn more and plan your visit at <https://libertyhall.kean.edu/>.

Pictured left to right: Shelley and Joel Siegel, General Washington, Governor Livingston, Jodi Friend, Adam Haberfield, and Jack Vrablik.